Two base hits—Wood, McPhee, Schmidt; Three base hits—Wood, Landsberg; Home run—Landsberg; Bases on balls—off McPhee 7; off Gardner 9. Umpires—Laurant and Keynolds. Scorer—Johnson.

Grayling H. S. got off to a flying start in its opening base ball game here Friday, defeating the visitors 19 to 2. After the first inning when Grayling scored five runs the game was never in doubt. The local slugger made 24 hits off the Roscommon pitcher. Gardner (two) and McPhee (one) pitched with his hits allowing the visitors but five. With their regular pitcher (Cuyler and Manager DeWaele who were expended last Friday) in the game this Friday we expect they will give us a better game.

Help the boys along by taking in the game at Roscommon this Friday.

Impossibilities—Edgar without his "Henry." A defeated H. S. base ball team. A twelve month vacation. Max Yahr flunking. Finley to school on time (especially on Monday a. m.) John Phelps getting "E" in history. An Algebra class meeting.

Kris—(at Friday base ball game): Oh, Girls, what do they do with a base when they steal it?

1st tourist—They say Grayling was founded by a Goldsmith.

2nd tourist—No wonder, it's a deserted village.

Plumber—I've come to fix that old tub in the kitchen.

Iva—Mamma, there's a man here who wants to see the cook.

Only 3 weeks and 1 more day of school!—OH, BOY.

Class Meetings: Freshmen—A bunch of Debutants. Sophomores—Saturday Afternoon Tea Club.

Juniors—A fight between Capital and Labor.

Seniors—Congress or anything that's quiet.

A good motto—"Sleep at Home."

Commencement day—June 14.

Baccalaureate—June 10.

Class day—June 13.

Speaker—Thomas Reid of U. of M. Valedictorian—Olga Neilsen. Salutatorian—Eleanore Schumann.

WHY CITIES GROW.

The rapid growth which many progressive cities and towns are attaining has been one of the marvels of American life. People who are ambitious to have their own communities go ahead often ask how it is that these advancing places secure these quick gains.

Investigation would commonly show that such progress is not usually due merely to favorable locations. The citizens of such places have not sat down and waited for progress to come to them. They have done a lot of hustling themselves.

The reputation that a certain city is a live town has a lot to do with its advance. People like to buy real estate or engage in business in such communities, as they feel that investment values will climb. They enjoy the feeling of life and activity that prevails in such a city.

Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade, etc., have had much to do with the advance of these fast growing towns. The results that such organizations get are broader than what shows on the surface. It is commonly true though that when men band in their efforts in an active association of this nature, they usually achieve some of the definite results that they aim for, in the shape of public industries, etc.

But even if such an organization does go along for a time without much tangible achievement, the mere fact that the business men are working untidily for new facilities and advantages, creates an atmosphere of progress. The activities of such an organization are reported in the newspapers and discussed by travellers and residents. The idea spreads around that such a city is a place of active and working community spirit, where the people are hustling to get things done. When a place gets that reputation, it will grow of its own momentum.

WILL CELEBRATE JULY FOURTH

GRAYLING PLANNING BIG NATIONAL HOLIDAY PROGRAM.

Centennial Parade, Speaker, Banquet, Sports, Music, Dance, etc.

Look out for a big time the 4th.

Grayling is going to celebrate and plans an entire way to celebrate and honor the birth of July celebrations. This town has never held a celebration of this kind before. That means much for Grayling always puts up a good show in whatever it does. No one ever comes here and goes away and says that the celebration was pretty good and didn't amount to anything. Everyone is royally entertained from the time they arrive until the last guest leaves the city.

Just for instance please look over the list of committees that will run the affair, appointed under auspices of the Grayling Board of Trade. They are as follows:

Executive Committee—

Marjorie Hanson, Chairman.

George Burke.

Herluf Sorenson.

Reuben Babbitt.

C. M. Moritt.

Finance Committee—

T. W. Hanson, Chairman.

R. H. Gillett.

W. H. Cody.

G. N. Olson.

M. A. Atkinson.

Fireworks Committee—

Alfred Hanson, Chairman.

B. B. Delamater.

James Bowen.

Herluf Sorenson.

Sports Committee—

C. O. McCullough, Chairman.

E. S. Chalker.

T. P. Peterson.

Publicity Committee—

O. P. Schumann.

C. A. Canfield.

A. J. Joseph.

Decorations Committee—

M. A. Bates, Chairman.

John Nelson.

P. G. Zalsman.

Parade Committee—

George Burke, Chairman.

Harry E. Simpson.

Nels O. Corwin.

Earl Kidd.

George Prehn.

Program Committee—

H. F. Peterson.

B. E. Smith.

Geo. McCullough.

C. W. Olsen.

R. D. Bailey.

C. M. Moritt.

Lines are now out to secure a good speaker for what would a Fourth of July mean without some orator to remind us of the purposes of the day and perhaps recite the Declaration of Independence. We will have a good one and all will be glad to hear him.

This may seem a little early to start the ball a roll but it will give people time to make their plans early. Visitors will find things entertaining, hospitable and comfortable. The picnic grounds will accommodate all who may care to bring their lunch; hotels and cafes will take care of any others who do not come prepared.

Just make up your minds to be in Grayling, July 4th.

THE GLASS SLIPPER.

To be Presented by High School Pupils June 1st.

"The Glass Slipper, better known as Cinderella, a comic light opera, will be presented by pupils of the High school Friday night June 1st. The several characters will be presented by well known pupils and is sure to be a big success.

The opera is being rehearsed by Mr. Gutch and is progressing finely. There are ten principal characters in the opera, and also a large chorus. This is a school affair and promises to be one of the best ever presented. It is hoped there will be a large attendance. Admission 25 and 35c.

Louis's prayer.

The L. N. L. and N. L. V. S. will meet at the G. A. R. hall and from there go to the cemetery to decorate the graves of deceased soldiers of all the wars.

Veterans of the World war will hold their services in the forenoon at 10:30 o'clock, under the auspices of Grayling Post 105 American Legion, by marching in a body to Elmwood cemetery, where they will hold short services and decorate the graves of deceased comrades. They probably will also go to Frederic to decorate the graves of comrades who rest in the Frederic cemetery.

Ball Game.

In the afternoon the first official ball game of the season will be played, when the local nine will cross bats with Manistee. This is sure to be a good game.

ZIEHELL WUCKER.

Jenson Ziehell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ziehell, was united in marriage to Miss Frances Wucker of Niles, Michigan, Tuesday evening. The marriage ceremony was performed at Roscommon, and on the return of the newlyweds to Grayling a small reception was held at the home of the groom's parents. The guests included relatives and a few close friends, and a delicious wedding supper was served by Mrs. Ziehell. Mrs. William Wucker, mother of the bride arrived from Niles Tuesday morning to attend the wedding. The happy young couple left early yesterday morning accompanied by the bride's mother. Mrs. Wucker for Niles to make their home. Mr. Ziehell has been employed on the railroad in Niles the past month, and with the young lady came to Grayling Sunday to be well. The Wucker family were former residents of Frederic.

The Art of Giving Wedding Presents

The idea in a wedding present is to show in a material way your good wishes for the young woman in her new station of life, through a gift which she will use personally with real pleasure, or with equal pleasure give a place in the new home's equipment.

Selection is an art in which perfection comes with experience. Having assisted in the selection of so many hundreds of wedding gifts, and having in stock such great variety of the most appropriate of all presents, our experience is naturally of very great help to you in making a choice.

We invite you to take advantage of it whenever the occasion arises.

Blue, Gray and Khaki

Let us not forget that without Gettysburg and Antietam there would have been no Valley Forge and Chateau Thierry and Argonne Forest.—Representative M. C. Kelly of Pennsylvania.

By JOHN DICKINSON SHERMAN

GAIN comes Memorial Day.

The recurrent miracle of the sacred providence the outward and visible sign of its inward and spiritual grace. So there will be flowers, both for the Blue and for the Gray and the

Khaki which the Blue and Gray united to make.

Again shall we see the aged forms of the veterans who fought under

Grant and Lee, under Sherman and Stonewall Jackson, under Sheridan and Stuart.

And do not let time dim for you the marital glories of their battles. For there is more to Memorial Day than smiles and tears and flowers and suicides for the Blue and the Gray.

The United States of America does not go around with clip on shoulder.

But you know, and I know, away down deep that we Americans are the most warlike people on this earth, and the most desperate in battle. The Stars and Stripes has never yet trailed in defeat.

Yes, there was fighting at Bull Run and at Chancellorsville. But there was fighting at Gettysburg and Antietam, too. Read those lines by the heroic Grant, who never wasted a word and saw things as they were, in his chapter entitled "Battle of the Wildermutes."

"At 3:30 in the afternoon Lee attacked our left. His line moved up to within a hundred yards of ours

and opened a heavy fire."

The enemy pushed through our lines, planting their flags on a part of the interments not of ours. Fighting had continued from five in the morning, sometimes along the whole line, at other times only in places.

The ground fought over varied in width, but averaged three-quarters of a mile. The killed and many of the severely wounded of both armies lay within this belt, where it was practically impossible to reach them. The wounds were set on fire by the burning shells and the conflagration raged. The wounded who had not strength to move themselves were either suffocated or burned to death. Finally, the fire communicated with our brackets in places. Being constructed of wood they burned with great fury. But the battle still raged, our men firing through the flames until it became too hot to remain longer. Lee was now in distress. During the night all of Lee's army withdrew within

Pennsylvania 29, Ohio 12, Wisconsin

5, Massachusetts and Vermont 3 each,

Illinois and Connecticut 2 each and

Indiana, Kansas, Missouri and Michigan 1 each.

Time, they say, heals all wounds.

It is well that it does. But time, also, erases memories. And this is not so well. Time should not be allowed to efface us away from the "music of the hoarsest drum and silver voice of the 'herald bugle' of the 1863-64

1861-62 American citizenship and unselfish and unblemished, but also enriched and glorified, and it was for that very citizenship—the war was fought.

The Spanish-American war was a short war and soon over. But it was a tremendously important war for all that. This war put the American Navy on the Seven Seas to stay. It made the United States a world-power overnight. It was to the world an object lesson that the American of 1898 was still the same old fighting man of 1776 and 1812 and 1848 and 1861.

And it was in this war that the Blue and the Gray first blended into the Khaki. When Miles and Wheeler fought under the Star Spangled Banner and drove the blood and flag of Spain with its yellow heart from its last staff in the Western Hemisphere, the way was clear for complete reconciliation between the North and South.

One day in 1898 a great transpor-

ation of the United States, bearing 2,000

American soldiers and sailors, left a dock in the Hudson river for the Philippines. This great ship turned north instead of south and steamed slowly up the Hudson to the tomb of Grant.

And then a mighty salute was given.

When the Grant memorial was dedicated in Washington it was a veteran in Gray who hung out the flag and said: "He gave us this."

No more reverent homage is paid to the tomb of the "Unknown Dead"

in Arlington than by the Gray veterans of 1861-62.

President Harding last month at Augusta and remember that it was through Georgia that Sherman marched "from Atlanta to the sea."

"I believe the framing of this Constitution was inspired; I believe it with God's intent, and yet there was an ambiguity in this Constitution that erated veterans. I never had such a cordial reception in my life.

"I have been President of the United States a little more than two years, and I have never heard more cordial expressions, more generous tenders of cooperation, more earnest wishes for the good fortune of the republic than those which have come from the states of the South, and which are not in wholly sympathy with the administration."

Abraham Lincoln once said, away back in 1847:

"From 1774 to 1847—69 long years—

the Nation has thrived and grown great in the visible presence of the surviving heroes and heroines of the Revolution, the very sight of them inspiring us. But now, in 1847, these are all gone, with few exceptions, and the Nation is closing the door upon the heroes of the past and must now turn and face, without this inspiration, a future which I cannot know and you cannot know, and only

God Himself can foretell."

So in 1921 we of this day and generation have thrived and grown great for 69 long years in the visible presence of the heroes of 1847-62. Now the heroes of that "no-and no finer, smarter fighting men ever angled at the "double-quick" are bent and stooped, tired by the long march, all most ready to break ranks for the last bivouac.

But for the next 60 years of the nation there is a new heroism—the heroism of the boys in Khaki. May the coming generations thrive and grow great in their visible presence. May their visible presence be inspiring as that of the men of 1776 and the men of 1847.

"The loftiest tribute we can bestow today—the heroically earned tribute—fashioned in deliberate conviction, out of unclouded thought, neither shadowed by remorse nor made vain

by fancies, is the commitment of this Republic to an advancement never made before," said President Harding at the burial of the "Unknown Dead"

at Arlington. "The American achievement is a cherished pride at home, if our misadventures among nations are all we wish it to be, and ours is a help-

NOTHING OF THE REAL WORLD

MOTHER RHINOCEROS

"How well do I remember those days and nights in Africa," said Mother

Rhinoceros to Mr. Rhinoceros in the 200.

"I remember those days, too," said

Mr. Rhinoceros. "Yes," sometimes when people come to look at me and when they smile because they think I am a strange-looking beast I do not mind for I am dreaming of other days.

"I love to sleep and to dream. And after a nice meal a good rest is very important.

"That is, it is nice, whether or not it is important.

"What meals we used to have of grass and leaves in those days, and how we would wander forth at night but sleep during the hot days."

"Yes," said Mother Rhinoceros, "that used to be the way we did—and sensible it was, too.

"There was no sense going out during the heat of the day when night time would be sure to come along bringing with it cooler air.

"If night-time would not have meant cooler air then it could have been different. Then we might have gone out during the day.

"But how foolish it would have been for us to have done that."

"How foolish!" said Mr. Rhinoceros.

"I always had such a good way of bringing up my young."

"Ah, yes, an excellent way," said Mr.

Rhinoceros. "You showed the good sense of a rhinoceros in your upbringing of your young.

"Others have not so much sense."

"I am so glad that you agree with me," said Mother Rhinoceros. "I always thought my way was best."

"Some mothers have their children follow them. In fact that is the usual way."

"And then, every little while, they have to turn around to see if their children are behind them and make sure they haven't been lost, and also make sure they're walking along fast enough.

"But my way is to have my child walk ahead. Then I can see just where my child is all the time."

"I don't have to get worried and I don't have to suddenly turn around,

saying to myself:

"Oh, dear, I do hope little Rhino is still safely behind me."

"I don't have to say anything like that for little Rhino is still to be found straight in front of me."

"And when little Rhino wanders a little too much to the right or a little too much to the left I nudge little

Rhino to make him go right."

"Oh yes, I can keep an eye on my child that way."

"An excellent rhinoceros custom," said Mr. Rhinoceros. "Some of us have one horn and some of us have two horns. Some of us fight with our horns and others of us fight with our teeth and some of us come from Africa while others of our family come from India."

"They say that the natives of Africa are afraid of members of our family and that elephants are afraid of us,

"It seems rather superior to think we can make such enormous animals

as elephants afraid of us."

"They say that at times we are very stupid because we are near-sighted and can't see danger at all times."

THURSDAY, MAY 24, 1922.

CRAWFORD COUNTY has every other county in Michigan is experiencing an abundance of some of its farms, caused apparently by the exodus of the young sons to the greater industrial centers, particularly the auto factories.

Just where this is going to stop is a question nobody can answer with positive certainty. It surely is going to make a large reduction in farm crops and there is no way to prevent it. The opportunities for large wages in the big factories and the excitement of living in a large city, offer much in contrast to the life on the farm. It is hard to lead on the farm. Whether they have anything left just before the next day, they come out not to be disappointed. A good side pay, or a large crop, good to most young men, but they may be having a hard time to get the right in the city. When the time comes, they will find that the city is not what they thought it was. They will find that the city is not what they thought it was. They will find that the city is not what they thought it was.

It is a question of time when the city will be a better place to live than the farm. It is a question of time when the city will be a better place to live than the farm. It is a question of time when the city will be a better place to live than the farm.

The newest sport in Grayling is horseback riding. It is taking with great enthusiasm by both ladies and gentlemen. Last Sunday saw quite a number out on the highways and by-ways, and spots are oftentimes visited where no auto can possibly reach.

Riding Master Vincens Grandjean says that the people of Grayling have no idea of the number of beauty spots about the county that they have never visited before and those who are just beginning to ride horseback are finding out what he says is true. With a fine saddle horse one may reach almost any place in existence, and in sport is great and the exercise just the kind to keep one feeling young and spry.

The Star stables are kept stock as a whistle and horses, saddles and bridles spotlessly clean.

Last fall Will McCullough of Detroit came to Grayling and purchased thru Reel & Schumacher, 380 acres of wild land about four miles east of Grayling, which was his intention to reforest. The first lot of trees arrived last week and were planted by C. O. McCullough, father of Will. There were 500 in all consisting of Carolina poplars. The trees were from 5 to 7 feet in height. The owner says that these trees are of rapid growth and the timber in ready demand, being used extensively in furniture and in other ways, and he feels confident that his venture will prove a profitable one. He will plant more trees as fast as he can. The project seems a very reasonable one and should prove a stimulus to others to utilize their wild lands in a similar manner. No doubt this venture will be watched with a great deal of interest.

Lightning did considerable damage at the military reservation last Saturday night at about 10 o'clock when it struck the caretakers' home, occupied by George Schable and J. E. Fletcher and their families. The lightning followed in upon an electric light wire. It was so severe that it fused together copper wires into a solid piece, rattled the electric chandeliers, set fire to the attic, burned the lace curtains in Mrs. Schable's bedroom, scorched the wood work, and did other damage. The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hewitt, who was asleep in the bedroom was shocked and for some time was unable to speak. Besides this the current melted the fuses in the hospital building and the Henry Baumgras residence. This is the third time the caretakers' house has been struck by lightning and it is fortunate that no more serious damage has been done and perhaps someone killed.

E. A. Bowman of Detroit spent Saturday and Sunday visiting his daughter, Mrs. Benton Jorgenson and husband.

Quite a number of members of the Grayling Sportsman's association will accept an invitation to partake of a banquet given by the Sportsman's association of Gaylord at that city Friday night. It is expected that about thirty from Grayling will be in attendance.

A pleasant company of fishermen were guests at Recreation club from Saturday until Tuesday. Among the party were Messrs. Jerton, Mark Brown, Aleck Reid and William Foot of Saginaw; Judge Webster, Thomas Hilton and others of Detroit. Mr. Brown, who was formerly a traveling salesman for many years for the Hazeltine & Perkins Drug Co., and made regular trips to Grayling is now manager of the Brown-Rutherford Motor Sales Co. of Saginaw.

Let us help you select the right gift

Graduation gifts are constant reminders of an unusual and very happy occasion. One should select such gifts with care and deliberation. In most instances suitable inscriptions must be engraved upon them. In others, perhaps, they must be forwarded to distant points to the happy recipient.

Our suggestion that you give an Elgin Watch on such an occasion, is prompted by the knowledge that such a gift will endure and serve as a happy reminder of the occasion for many years.

Come in. The services of this gift store are yours to enjoy.

Old Timber for Violins

Valuable violins are being manufactured from wood taken from the ruins of the cliff dwellers near Aztec, N. M. While excavating, Carl Morria, research investigator for the Smithsonian Institution, found a number of perfectly preserved timbers which are believed to have been used in constructing the homes of the cliff dwellers. The timbers were estimated to be over one thousand years old and, due to the dry, hot climate that prevails in the vicinity of the ruins, the wood has become so well seasoned that high-class violins are being made from it which have a tone, it is said, equal to that of an instrument that has been in use for a number of years. The instruments are all of fine quality and are bringing high prices.

Mathematics, Not Ethics.
It is the custom of a certain western magistrate, after having passed sentence upon the culprits convicted in his court, to give them more or less wise advice.

On one occasion having before him a person convicted of theft, he started thus:
"If you want to succeed in this world you must keep straight. Now do you understand?"
"Well, not quite," replied the prisoner, "but if your honor will kindly tell me how a man is to keep straight when he is trying to make both ends meet, I might."—Harper's Magazine.

BUSINESS METHODS NEEDFUL

Dairy Industry Is All Right for Making Money if Some Good System Is Followed.

The trouble with the dairy business lies mostly with the methods of the men in the business. Some dairymen prosper while their neighbors fail by the roadside. The dairy business is all right, but it takes good business methods to make profits, says M. H. Keeney, dairy specialist of the New Jersey College of Agriculture.

The coming year will not be particularly different from any other year in the dairy business. The specialist suggests that good dairymen's methods should be analyzed and applied to the average dairy business.

Know your cows, he says. Good dairymen know what their cows are doing. They keep milk records, weed out the unprofitable cows, raise heifer calves from the best cows and thereby improve their herds. You can't guess at these things and get ahead. It takes records to get the facts.

Good dairymen are good feeders. They feed balanced rations and according to production. They have silos, alfalfa or clover hay and feed liberally of grain. Circular 127 of the New Jersey state agricultural experiment station, is used as a feeding guide by thousands of good dairymen. It is free upon request to the station at New Brunswick.

All of our best dairymen use purebred bulls because they know it pays. A good bull will remake a poor herd into a good one, but a poor bull will ruin any herd and may cost his owner in the purchase. A good bull is the best investment any dairyman can make. You never have and never will see a man succeed with venals. It takes good cows to make money and the bull is the main factor in getting better cows. Good dairymen observe all of these things and apply them in their business. They will make money in 1923.

PLAN FOR IMPROVING HERDS

Fundamental Rules of Fitting Must Be Understood to Have Cows in Good Condition.

If the dairy breeds are to be improved and brought up to maximum milk and butterfat production so that the science of breeding may be brought down to more nearly a problem of mathematics, then the good cows of the leading breeds must be given creditable official records. Fundamental rules of fitting must be understood in order to have the cows in condition to make good records, and then fundamental rules of feeding must be fully understood and appreciated in feeding them when they are undergoing the test.

KEEP RECORD OF DAIRY COW

Spring Scale Placed in Convenient Place Will Make Matter of Weighing Easy Task.

Keep a record of the number of pounds of milk given by each cow. Hang a spring scale in a convenient place where the milk can easily be weighed, and mark down the weight of each milking on a chart prepared for the purpose. At the end of every month, add up the amount of milk produced to determine the monthly record. The year's record will show the amount of milk produced by each cow.

WATER AND SALT ESSENTIAL

Two Important Ingredients Must Be Supplied to Calf for Its Best Development.

At all times calves should have access to a quantity of fresh water. In the development of the calf, water is a very essential factor and plenty of it is an axiom. When the calf is four weeks old it should have one-fourth ounce of salt each day and the quantity should be increased as the animal matures. In six months it should be able to take as much as one-third ounce per day. Salt should be fed in connection with the feed.

SUPERIOR RATION FOR CALF

Important to Get Young Animal on Skim Milk With Grain and Hay Soon as Possible.

Get the calves to take a good ration of skim milk with some hay and grain as soon as possible. For the first two weeks after birth a small calf such as an average Jersey should receive about eight pounds or four quarts of milk daily fed in two or three feeds a day. A large calf such as a Holstein may be given ten or twelve pounds daily.

Cause of Calf Bloat

Bloat in calves is often caused by too much leafy clover or alfalfa. Except in severe cases very little treatment is given. In severe cases it may be necessary to use the trocar to let out the gas. In such a case a competent veterinarian should be called.

Vermin Pester Calves

Lice on calves are common. They make the calf uncomfortable, take its strength, and make the hair come out in patches. Many methods of getting rid of lice have been practiced.

Prevent Hatching Losses

Many infertile eggs, and weak germs result from lack of breath in the tank, frequently caused by overcrowding, or by lack of exercise and sanitation. Thus the birds are unfit for breeding and a poor hatch results.

Avoid Rust on Beans

Never walk through a bean patch while the dew is on it or when it has dried. Rust will follow your trail, the beans should not be cultivated except when the vines are thoroughly dry.

TAKING TANLAC

Mrs. Lachmaier Declares It Entirely Ended Stomach Trouble.

"Tanlac has completely relieved me of stomach trouble. I thought was hopeless," declared Mrs. Louis Lachmaier, 1514 Akron St., Massillon, Ohio. "My condition had been serious for a long time. I was forced to live off of milk, and was unable to eat any solid food. It simply would not digest, and would bring on terrible pain and violent palpitations. My nerves drove me almost frantic, and for nights at a time I could hardly sleep a wink."

"The Tanlac treatment brought almost immediate improvement, and in a few weeks I was off my milk diet and eating every kind of food. I have taken five bottles now and have more than recovered the 20 pounds I lost during my long illness. My gratitude to Tanlac is boundless."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitutes. Over 37 million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

A FEELING OF SECURITY

You naturally feel secure when you know that the medicine you are about to take is absolutely pure and contains no harmful or habit producing drugs.

Such a medicine is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, kidney, liver and bladder remedy. The same standard of purity, strength and excellence is maintained in every bottle of Swamp-Root.

It is scientifically compounded from vegetable herbs.

It is not a stimulant and is taken in teaspoonful doses.

It is not recommended for everything. It is a nature's great helper in relieving and overcoming kidney, liver, and bladder troubles.

A sworn statement of purity is with every bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

If you need a medicine, you should have the best. On sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to try this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Advertisement.

Exasperated Irishman About Willing to Admit That He Did Not Know Anybody

A typical Irishman who bore the equally typical Irish name of Pat was summoned recently for jury service in one of the superior courts. This Irish accent and his quaint and candid assertions afforded the other members of the venire much merriment.

Incidentally Pat was much concerned over the fact that his service on the jury caused him to be absent from his regular employment where he received $6.00 a day as compared with $2.50 the salary for jury service.

"Do you know the attorney for the defense?" an attorney asked Pat one day in examining a venire proceeding a trial.

"O' don't," replied Pat.

"Are you acquainted with any of the parties to this suit?" he was asked.

"O' no, no," replied Pat.

After several similar questions Pat apparently impatiently replied:

"O' don't know a livin' soul in this town."

After the jurors had filed out into the main room Pat, turning to one of his associate members, said:

"O' felt like tellin' him that I didn't know a blawin' soul in the whole buildin'!"—Indianapolis News.

American Flagship Connecticut, Nation's Pride of a Few Years Ago, Put Away as Obsolete

Only yesterday, as human events are recorded in history, the Connecticut was the flagship of the president fleet that ever put to sea flying the Stars and Stripes; as the finest and best of the imposing battlements which made the cruise around the world. She played a stellar role in one of the most important events in the history of the American navy.

Off the big ship which completed that American armada she is the only one to survive, and now she is to rest as a grand old man's row at Puget sound. "The Connecticut" has more service as flagship to her credit than any American man-of-war. Moreover, she has seen more strenuous active service than any vessel of her class and probably more than any capital ship in the United States navy. Yet she never fired a shot at an enemy.

PROFITS IN FARMING

Potatoes.

Those who are going to raise potatoes this year should select seed with great care.

You can well afford to do this as potatoes are so cheap.

Why use your land, labor and time on small yields?

Every effort should be made by every grower to grow more per acre, not more acres.

Try New Seed.

I have one and one half bushels of Certified Irish Cobblers from Minnesota, that I wish to sell, without profit, in peck or half-bushel lots.

Go to Gaylord.

Better take your auto and run up to Gaylord. Go right into the village. Follow the main business street east about two miles until you come to a huge red barn on left hand side of the road by a beautiful little lake. You will then be at the farm of Jay Townsend. He has splendid Certified Russets (late Peter Key) at seven cents a bushel. This is a few bushels.

Soak Them.

No matter what seed potatoes you use, treat them. Soak them thirty minutes in a solution of Corrosive Sublimite before cutting. Best material to growers.

Why?

Soaking this kills scab, and several diseases that cause tops to die too soon. No other way to prevent it.

Bugs and Blight.

This soaking will not keep off blight nor blight.

Bugs must be kept off by poison sprays. Blight, by spraying with Bordeaux Mixture.

Leaf hoppers, by Black Leaf 40, a tobacco solution.

3 in 1.

Above three sprays can be put together and put on at same time.

Stem End.

While cutting seed potatoes, which is done soaking, cut off a slice a quarter of an inch thick from the stem end. If the growth of the potato shows a dark yellowish brown ring, don't plant the seed, for that color is a sure sign of Fusarium Wilt, that will cause tops to die down ahead of time, before new potatoes properly fill out, and you will have simply wasted your time on that piece of seed.

Bend or Bust.

Lots of people don't want to be annoyed with all these directions, and all this fussing. They just want to take any old potatoes out of the cellar and ship them into the ground.

They always have so why couldn't they keep on?

Yes, it is a good idea. You can make you take all these precautions if you don't want to go ahead. Don't change. Don't back up any improvements. It's a free country. Don't back this book farming! Bend or bust.

Seed Treatment of Potatoes by G. H. Coons, Michigan Agricultural College. How to Treat Potatoes.

Potatoes are treated by soaking them for 15 hours in a solution of 4 ounces of corrosive sublimate dissolved in 50 gallons of water. The solution must be strengthened from time to time as explained below.

Corrosive sublimate, (mercury bichloride) is deadly poison and the solution used for dipping is poison. Use every care to prevent accident.

Important Suggestions.

1. Use soft water.
2. The solution weakens with use because the corrosive sublimate is carried out of solution condensed on the potatoes. Dirt also condenses the chemical and takes it out of solution. Sacks takes a great deal of the corrosive sublimate out of the treating solution. With clean potatoes dumped from crates directly into the disinfecting solution, probably from 1.10 to 1.5 of the corrosive sublimate is removed with each batch. With potatoes treated in bags, 1.4 or more of the corrosive sublimate is removed with each batch.

3. Therefore, the farmer must use his judgment in strengthening the solution. With clean potatoes treated directly in the vat or barrel from which the dirt has been cleaned off, add 1 ounce for each 50 gallons of liquid after each second batch is treated. When the solution gets very dirty make up a fresh solution.

4. With dirty potatoes, treated in sacks, add 1 ounce of corrosive sublimate after each batch is treated in order to keep up strength of the solution.

5. One half pound of corrosive sublimate will treat from 15 to 30 bushels, depending upon the freedom from dirt, sacks, broken, rotted potatoes, etc.

6. Do not use metal containers. For treating large quantities use a vat or cement tank, for smaller quantities use barrels, sugar barrels, well soaked, make a cheap treating outfit.

7. Treat before cutting.

8. One half hour is long enough to treat.

9. After treating and cutting, potatoes must either be planted at once, or kept cool, dry and well-aired.

10. Dissolve the corrosive sublimate in a glass jar, using hot water. A tablespoonful of vinegar will speed up the dissolving.

11. Again—remember the extremely poisonous nature of corrosive sublimate.

Kedzie Mixture.

Paris Green will be scarce and high this year.

More than thirty years ago Professor Robert Kedzie at our Agricultural College, discovered how to make a cheap, good substitute for Paris Green.

A lot of farmers met at Frederic last week, with Mr. Harmon of the Agricultural College, and the County Agent, and were shown just how to make the Kedzie mixture. We made a batch. We put it together and cooked it right there before them. All seemed well pleased. Here is the way to do it—Cut it out and paste it on pantry door.

Kedzie Mixture—R. H. Pettit.

The following is the formula for the preparation of Kedzie mixture:

"Dissolve the arsenic by boiling with carbonate of soda and thus insure complete solution; which solution can be kept ready to make a spraying solution whenever needed. Boil two pounds of white arsenic with eight pounds of soda crystals of carbonate of soda—washing soda—found in every grocery and drug shop—in two gallons of water. Boil these materials in any iron pot not used for other purposes. Boil for fifteen minutes, or until the arsenic dissolves, leaving only a small muddy sediment. Put this solution into a jug and label. "Poison. Stock material for spraying mixture."

The spraying mixture can be prepared whenever required as in the quantity needed at the time, by slaking two pounds of (stone or lump) lime, adding this to forty gallons of water—pour into this a quart of the arsenic solution. Mix by stirring thoroughly and the spraying mixture is ready for use. The arsenic in this mixture is equivalent to eight pounds of Paris Green.

If an additional pound or two of lime is added to the mixture it will help to make the application permanent and conspicuous without in any way interfering with this mixture.

The jug, pot, etc., must never be used for any other purpose after using it for making this mixture.

Kedzie mixture must not be combined with lime-sulphur but it is satisfactory with Bordeaux. It costs only about one-eighth or one-tenth as much as arsenic of lead when the arsenic is purchased in bulk.

Base Ball, Decoration Day, Grayling vs. Manistee.

Miss Anne Walton of Detroit is a guest at the home of her sister Mrs. C. R. Keyport.

Adolph Peterson while fishing on the Manistee river Sunday caught a Rainbow trout, weighing 3 1/2 pounds, and measuring 21 inches in length.

Mr. Gates of Boyne City, father of C. C. Gates arrived this afternoon to spend a few days with his son at the home of James H. Wingard.

Earl Woods motored up from Bay City Saturday and spent Sunday visiting his sister Mrs. Harold Jarnin and family.

The Ka-walla dancing pavilion at Houghton Lake will have its opening dancing party Tuesday evening, May 29th. Pat's Pop Producers will furnish the music.

C. C. Gates and family and Mrs. J. H. Wingard will accompany the former's father to his home in Boyne City, Mrs. Wingard will make a visit with her son Will and wife, who reside there.

Mrs. Harry H. Pool and mother, Mrs. Martin were at home to the ladies of Grayling yesterday afternoon, between the hours of three and six. Mrs. Pool and Mrs. Martin were assisted by Mrs. Oscar Hanson in receiving. It was a most delightful occasion.

A good crowd of rooters, mostly pupils of the local schools attended the base ball game last Friday afternoon played between Grayling and Roscommon High school teams. A large band of rooters also accompanied the visiting team. Owing to Roscommon's regular pitcher Cuyley being out of the game the visitors did not make a very good showing, meeting defeat by the enormous score of 19 to 2. A detailed report of the game with the line-ups appears in the school column. Next Friday Grayling will play a return game at Roscommon.

AN EXPLANATION

"Had you any reason to doubt the girl's honesty?"

"None. While she was with us I missed seven silver spoons, a gold bracelet, a lot of preserves and—"

"That will do. Why did you say you didn't doubt her honesty?"

"Because I didn't think she had any honesty to doubt."

The Usual Gaffer's Experience.

"You seem to enjoy golf."

"I do."

"How long have you played?"

"Fifteen years."

"And have you always enjoyed it?"

"No. It took me fourteen years to make up my mind that I would never be the amateur champion. After that I could settle down and get some fun out of the game."

Practicing What He Preaches.

Cousin George—Really, Mabel, but can't we stay at home and practice while he preaches?

Engaging a Driver.

"How long will it take us to get to the depot?" asked the man of the taxi driver.

"Fifteen minutes," replied the driver.

"All right. I've got thirty-five minutes to spare. Do you think you can get me to the depot without scaring the daylight out of me?"

HE KNOWS

"Who's minding your business while you're away, Mr. Green?"

"The neighbors, as usual."

"Just as the needle is going through the needle, winks his eye."

Practical Charity.

"Look at that poor stray cat. I'll get it some meat."

"No, wait! I believe in teaching others to help themselves. I'll throw some crumbs to draw the birds and maybe the cat can catch one."

Urgent Business.

Mrs. Clark—It was absolutely necessary. The poor woman has two marvellous daughters on her hands.

"Well?"

"Immediately after the ceremony she served notice on him that if he ever showed any signs of getting worse there would be nothing doing."

Harsh Words.

"I can't see this stuff," said the editor.

"In no way, shape or form?"

"In no way, shape or form would it be a poem. You couldn't even palm it off on an unsuspicious public as free verse."

Not for Children.

Pat—Did you read about that nonagenarian's banquet?

Patricia—Yes. I found a fellow who had been married for 90 years and he told him he was too young to go to such things.

"He did?"

"Yes, he said that if I didn't take an interest pretty soon he'd fire me."

CURZON ORDERS REDS TO YIELD

Demands Russian Government Meet
Terms of Recent British Note Unconditionally.

Lausanne—If Turkey insists on war to settle the question of the indemnity she claims is due from Greece, then Greece will accept the gage of battle, M. Alexandris, the Greek foreign minister, said.

The Greeks have given no indication of an intention to recede from their reparations demands and M. Alexandris's declaration that Greece was resolved not to pay one cent of indemnity brought increased pessimism in conference circles.

The Greek foreign minister said the Greek army had been reorganized since the overthrow of Constantine, and was now well equipped and armed and able to take care of itself.

The seizure by the Turks of the impoverished refugees' funds at the banks of Constantinople, continued the foreign minister, and the "abominable treatment" of Greek prisoners of war recently arrived from Asia Minor, constituted such provocations.

The Greeks and Turks had signed a separate convention at Lausanne in January for the compulsory exchange of populations, with the distinct provision that it should be operative before May 1, yet the Turks have sent an additional 70,000 refugees since the signature of the convention in gross violation of its terms.

The latest provocation, according to M. Alexandris, was the steady despatch of Turkish troops into eastern Thrace, violating the Mudania armistice.

M. Alexandris repeated the Greek contention that Turkey and Greece should mutually renounce reparations as the only possible solution.

The second month of the second conference will open tomorrow in a troubled atmosphere with none of the great issues settled.

Take To Boats After Vessels Crash
in Fog in Lake Huron.

Sault Ste. Marie—Rigged out in clothing from Sault Ste. Marie stores, 27 sailors, including Captain Joseph E. Burke of St. Clair Mich., left here Monday for Chicago.

Monday for Chicago. Captain Burke and his men narrowly escaped death in Lake Huron when their steamer, the Edward U. Demmer, of the Milwaukee Western Steamship company, sank 10 minutes after it was hit, starboard and forward, by the steamer Saturn.

After drifting about in life boats, the men were picked up by the steamer Agassiz. The first man to leave the ill-fated steamer was picked up by the steamer Eads and arrived here several hours before his shipmates. He believed at first the rest of the crew had perished.

The captain of the Agassiz cruised about for three hours searching in the fog for the men whose cries he could hear but whom he was unable to see.

BELGIANS BALK ON WAR IN RUHR

Refuse to Send More Troops Into Rhine Land with French.

Paris—The difference between the French and Belgian governments, slight a month ago, has become decidedly greater.

While the Theunis cabinet is thoroughly in sympathy with Premier Poincare, nevertheless the Flemish part of the Belgian population supplies a consistent opposition to following closely the French policy.

As a result of this definite opposition to the Ruhr plans the Belgian cabinet, despite the overwhelming vote of confidence, decided not to participate in further strengthening the hold on the Rhineland.

Baron Gaffier D'Hestroy, Belgian ambassador, called on Premier Poincare and presented a formal refusal by the Belgian government to send any more troops to the Ruhr.

The French cabinet already had decided to send 20,000 men, but in face of the Belgian abstention, it is possible that the move will be postponed.

Belgian sources confirm the desire of the Theunis cabinet to avoid alienating the opinion of Flemish Belgium.
